THE NIGHT WINDOW

Distributor – Short-film development pitch

Hook: A short about work that finishes a transaction without promising a healed life.

Logline: Before midnight, a repair-kiosk owner must choose between her lease deposit and correcting a battery record that could save a courier cooperative from paying for her mistake.

Audience hook: a defective scanner threatens a cooperative booking while an honest refund threatens a kiosk lease. This is a completed screenplay, not a completed film; no footage, delivery date, viewership evidence or rights deal. Potential curation themes include labor and urban life; neither constitutes market demand.

Proposed next step: Assess a future cut for a short anthology or curated program only after rights and delivery materials exist.

Status and scope: Original short, revised host-agent demonstration draft. No cast, finance, partners or distribution attached. Single-agent self-review; no independent endorsement. Local draft only, unsent. This small demo does not establish feature-quality guarantees.
