THE NIGHT WINDOW

Press – Short-film development pitch

Hook: Two working women and one incorrect word on a receipt.

Logline: Before midnight, a repair-kiosk owner must choose between her lease deposit and correcting a battery record that could save a courier cooperative from paying for her mistake.

The Night Window is an original screenplay demonstration about a repair owner and a courier coordinator choosing whether to make a costly record accurate. Two performers, a kiosk and adjacent pavement are the intended production scope. It has not been filmed, selected, reviewed by critics or independently endorsed.

Proposed next step: For any future announcement, verify production facts and available stills; no press-ready quotes or footage exist.

Status and scope: Original short, revised host-agent demonstration draft. No cast, finance, partners or distribution attached. Single-agent self-review; no independent endorsement. Local draft only, unsent. This small demo does not establish feature-quality guarantees.
