THE NIGHT WINDOW

Financier – Short-film development pitch

Hook: A bounded short with identifiable costs, without a recoupment story invented to justify it.

Logline: Before midnight, a repair-kiosk owner must choose between her lease deposit and correcting a battery record that could save a courier cooperative from paying for her mistake.

Two performers and two adjacent spaces limit scope, while night access, sound control and screen inserts remain real cost drivers. No budget quotes, financing structure, revenue forecast or attachments exist. The package is a development demonstration, not an offer. A short may need grant, patron or self-funded support with no commercial return.

Proposed next step: Require an independent read, line budget, rights plan and funding terms before considering support.

Status and scope: Original short, revised host-agent demonstration draft. No cast, finance, partners or distribution attached. Single-agent self-review; no independent endorsement. Local draft only, unsent. This small demo does not establish feature-quality guarantees.
